Delegates Impressions of the Annual U. F. A. Convention

By Delegates Harold Wester and William Riden.

It is quite a difficult task to give an accurate account of a convention such as was held by the U.F.A. at Edmonton this year, not that the actual proceedings are hard to record, but the attitude of the delegates on the various subjects discussed. The spirit and meaning conveyed by the different speakers, is often more the spirit of earnestness and enthusiasm, while being an essential part of the proceedings is difficult to put into words, though it creates the atmosphere of brotherhood of the people.

Five Hundred Delegates

The number of official delegates present this year was about five hundred, which comparatively small number, was probably an efficient display of delegates. The delegates were not only another five hundred visitors at each session, through the interest of the people at large in the doing of the U.F.A.

The G.W.A. Memorial Hall was admirably suited for the purpose of the convention, having the necessary office accommodation and committee rooms, and being in the centre of the city.

Press Prophecies

A certain amount of what might be termed "prophecies" in the doing of the convention and been around by parts of the press. For instance, it was going to be shown who was the big boss behind the government, and hints were thrown of a big split expected in the ranks of the U.F.A. regarding both leadership and policy. However, no disclosure were forthcoming, and no earthquake occurred, and probably these rumours were only a reflection of what a few outside interests wished would happen to the organization.

As a matter of fact, one of the outstanding features of the convention was the apparent unity of spirit that built all delegates and officials together, a feeling of confidence in their leaders and loyalty to the U.F.A., which helped so much to give solidarity of opinion and action on both large and small questions.

The fundamentals of the U. F. movement appeared to be realized by all, and the principle of equal rights were extended to all, both friend and foe.

The business routine of the convention was not at all hurried, carried on with dispatch and a minimum of delay; the officials responsible having brought this down to a fine point of efficiency.

A few speakers only wasted time by repeating things already said, or stating views which did not bear directly on the subject under discussion. It should be mentioned that your own delegate was not among these.

Rather than attempt a detailed account of the proceedings, it might be better to mention the question which loomed up as most important and in which most interest was shown, and debate was keenest.

Election of President

First, with regard to the election of president, it was quite evident early in the proceedings, that in spite of the hints in the press, the convention, as a whole, had seriously considered, but one man, our tried and valued leader of the past eight years.

Mr. Schofield, who has done so much valuable work as U.F.A. President, declined to accept nomination, and in doing so, paid Mr. Wood a well-earned tribute indeed.

The other well-known U.F.A. officials accepted nomination for president. These were Mr. Harris, a director, and

Municipal and School Nominations next week

On Monday, February 1st, nominations for the office of Councilors of the Town of Strathmore and Strathmore School District will be held from 11 a.m. to 12 noon.

There are three seats open in the Council, the retiring Councilors being Messrs. Geo. Smith, Ed. Hyde, and J. J. Anderson.

For the School Board there are also three places to be filled, the retiring Trustees being Messrs. Geo. Quinn, and Mrs. Anderson.

In the event of more than the required number of candidates being nominated, an election will take place on the following Monday.

The annual Municipal elections are set later, the annual meeting through the province being held on February 16.

The New Liquor Bill

A summary of the new liquor bill which is to be presented to the legislature early in the session, has been published. The bill provides for the appointment of a liquor control board of not more than three members, and of only one member if found advisable. The bill also provides for the licensing of the sale of beer in club premises and premises attached to hotels, under certain regulations, and for the sale of beer and liquor to individuals under a permit system. The bill will prohibit consumption of liquor in hotel premises save in guest rooms by bona fide guests, will also prohibit the advertising of liquor and the existence of bar signs. The local option provisions provide for petition of 25 per cent. of the vote in any municipality for the setting up of local option. Heavy penalties are provided for infractions. The net profits from the

Fifteen Persons Injured — Five Seriously.

A serious accident took place at Lysal, on the C.N.R., northwest of Strathmore at 10:30 a.m. on Monday morning.

The cause of the accident is stated to have been a spread rail. The passenger coaches were thrown down a twelve-foot embankment, the engine remaining on the rails.

A special train was at once sent from Calgary with Dr. Wright and Coleman on board, and five aid was given, nine of the injured being brought to the Holy Cross Hospital at Calgary.

Those still in hospital on Tuesday were: A. G. Thompson, Rosebud, Alberta, fractured wrist and suspected right fracture of the skull. Mr. John Mackenzie occupied the chair.

In opening, Mr. Buckley paid his respects to the press and gave his reasons for not answering questions in the paper, except on the platform, as at a public meeting a questioner could help asking questions until he was fully satisfied.

J. C. Buckley Gets Views of Electors

Well Attended Meeting Held at Strathmore.

Many Questions Asked.

With the purpose of getting the views of the electors of this district on subjects that will come up before the present session of the legislature, Mr. J. C. Buckley, member for this constituency, addressed a well-attended meeting, held in the Memorial Hall on Wednesday evening.

Following Mr. Buckley's address, about an hour and a half was spent in discussion, all of it being very good humored. Mr. John Mackenzie occupied the chair.

The objections made to the alleged cause were not well founded. It was not a caucus, but rather a conference preliminary to the work of the session, and they would find that the government did not have all their members lined up to vote for what ever proposals they would put before them.

He would be glad to see the legislature run on non-party lines, but it was hardly possible to do that at present on account of the tactics of the official opposition, but they were doing their best to get away from the old party methods. This was illustrated by their action with regard to the Liquor Referendum, the drawing up of the ballot for which was done by a committee of the Legislature drawn from the whole house. The Liberal party, however, refused to act on this committee.

Government Saved Money

The speaker said that Alberta had a long way to pull out of the hole into which, but the present government were trying to institute economy in all directions, and had effected considerable improvements. The government were in the same position as a man trying to pay his obligations to the bank. It required a long steady pull.

The Deficits

The government inherited a debt of $118,000,000 in 1921. Deficits occurred in 1921 and 1922, which they admitted. The present government were in the same position as a man trying to pay his obligations to the bank. It required a long steady pull.

Government Stocks Not Good

In connection with the liquor on hand, Mr. Buckley said that when he took office he looked over the stocks of liquor he had not tasted liquor for twenty-five years, but he knew what were the good brands, as no name from the country that produced them. He found them very inferior quality, and asked the vendor why he did not stock better quality. The reply was that they could not get it. However, the speaker took it upon himself to write to the various manufacturers of good whiskey in Ireland, and they said they would be only too pleased to do business with the Alberta Government.

Savings Instituted

Since taking office the Parliament had effected big savings at the Parliament buildings, and also on the outside staffs. In 1922 the savings were $12,231. Operating expenses in the telephone department had been cut 23 per cent, and maintenance 26 per cent. The number of employees had been reduced 22 per cent.

Views On The Liquor Question

As they knew, he was a prohibitionist in principle, and had stated so before his election, but he recognized the will of the people as expressed in the referendum and would vote in favor of strong liquor being made available to the public as cheaply as to the Government. He was in Edmonton not to uphold his own views, but those of his constituents.

Better Roads Wanted

The first question was by Dr. Givins, who asked why the main highway from Strathmore to Calgary was in such bad shape during last year. The Municipality had asked the government would not allow them to do the work necessary. He felt that the public did not get much for the money spent on auto licenses.

Mr. Buckley said the road inspector blamed the Municipality, but he wished that someone had written to him about this and he would have taken it up.

Dr. Givins said he did not think it was necessary for citizens to have to make complaints in order to have public officials do the work they were paid to do.

In answer to other questions received, Mr. Buckley said that during coming year a big programme of road work was proposed, and advantage would be taken of the Federal grant. He had proposed in the government that part of the road from Strathmore south be macadamized.

one who has done a lot of good organization work for the association; Mr. Jackson, another director, and Mr. Bevington, who adopted the provincial bank scheme as the chief business he has been president in U.F.A. circles for the past fifteen years, and has done good work on the directorate.

Mr. Bevington was apparently the only one of the three beside Mr. Wood, who had any notable backing, receiving 12 votes, the other two polled about a dozen apiece, while Mr. Wood was elected by an overwhelming majority getting eighty-four per cent of the total vote.

Lauds H. W. Wood

There never had been any doubt as to the selection of a president as suggested. We may have more difficulty in selecting a president when Mr. Wood is under the ground. Without going so far as to say, admitted it would depart from the valuable asset and eight years experience as leader of the U.F.A. but hard, indeed, to find a man as capable and with the principles and fundamental ideas of the U.F.A. so ingrained in him.

Mr. Wood has adopted the organization as the child of his soul, as he described it. It is the greatest thing in his life, and he combines honesty of action and purpose, with an understanding of the principles underlying the organization, and a broad vision of its future possibilities.

There had been some talk, mostly in the papers, regarding Mr. Wood's dual position as U.F.A. president and chairman of the wheat pool. This combination of the two positions was not only the U.F.A. it is reasonable to suppose that in the absence of conflicting interests, the pool, which may be described as the child of the U.F.A., would be best served under the leadership of one man.

It was explained that Mr. Wood had voluntarily declined from his U.F.A. salary, the amount he drew from the pool in his capacity of chairman, so that his salary for the two positions is the same as it was for one.

Mr. Wood has often been described deprecatingly as a visionary; but probably only by those who know very little about him. It is a great thing for the U.F.A. that he has a vision, and one so large, and that it is coupled with so many other sterling qualities. He has a vision of bigger and better things for the U.F.A. in the way of co-operative marketing, and better social conditions, better times for the individual, the province, and humanity at large.

Schoolfield Again Vice-President

Mr. Schoolfield was re-elected vice-president. He has done a lot of valuable work in that capacity, having in conjunction with Mr. Wood, supervised the work of the office since Mr. Schoolfield's election. He is a dedicated, practical man, and has a very good grasp of the financial details and routine work generally, and proved very useful in answering questions as to these particulars, questions which are invariably asked as to expenditures, etc., for things we farmers, at least in the Strathmore district, have great regulations or squandering money, we invariably like to know, and are very particular not to let people spend our money for us.

Mr. Schoolfield was also in charge of the committee on the wheat pool. The directors elected were: Messrs. Bevington, Starn, and Jackson; all three well-known and tried workers. The district directors were elected by each constituency. Mr. A. Ewing, of Strathmore, being chosen as director for the East Calgary district in which Strathmore is included. Mr. Ewing is an energetic U.F.A. worker, and gives much time to the work of this organization. He is also on the committee of the C.P.R. Contract Holders' Association.

Taken as a whole, the executive of the U.F.A. is a very strong one, and should have the confidence and support of all members.

McMaster Tariff

Mr. McMaster M.P. for Home, Quebec, who led the Liberals on account of their high tariff attitude, gave a splendid address, and said that he was by no means alone in his protest and endeavours to tear down the high tariff.

Mr. McMaster also served on the committee appointed to investigate banking. He also spoke very highly of our progressive members and their work, saying that they were also, right up to the firing line, and that it was only their tenacity that had brought the banking investigation to a head, and had also procured the bringing into effect of the Crown New Year freight rates agreement, by which we benefit to the extent of seven cents a hundred on our grain shipments.

The U.F.A. Paper
A good deal of discussion was held on the "U.F.A.", official organ of the association, and it was decided to enlarge this to conditions and finances warrant. Reliable reports of the Legislature proceedings were also furnished.

Addresses were given by Premier Oliver, of B. C., on "Freight Rates", also by two representatives of the labor organization.

Mr. Hooe-Jones explained the pool system of the C.G.G. in cattle marketing, saying it was proving a complete success.

Resolutions

Space will not permit of mention of many of the resolutions submitted, but all were disposed of after being submitted to more or less able tongue-wrangling, or mutilation, as the subject called for.

Provincial Bank Not Wanted
The Provincial Bank proposal brought forth more discussion than perhaps any other subject, and it was when it came to a vote the proposal to establish a bank was overwhelmingly defeated.

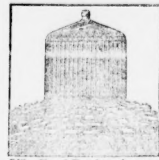

The government had submitted a report against such establishment, after having gone thoroughly into the matter, and consulting with experts. It was also pointed out that the proposed bank would only be possible under a Dominion charter, which would put it on the same level and on a par with any other bank in the province. Then too, it would have to do business on the credit of the people who wanted to use it, and it was definitely hinted that this credit was already considerably overworked.

Apart from these considerations, the expense to the province under existing economic conditions, was too great a consideration. The general verdict appeared to be—that we need the money but don't want the bank, and the consensus of opinion was that it would be better for the Dominion government to carry on a closer system of supervision of the existing banks, and with amendments to the present Bank Act, if necessary. One delegate suggested if we wait long enough, before by recent failures, we might be able to pick up a bank quite cheap.

Why Ford Products

Low First Cost

The low price of Ford cars and trucks has been one of the great dynamic forces in the development of motor transportation.

Since January 1920 the average price of Ford products has dropped 38%, and Ford prices are now the lowest in the history of the industry.

And because Ford prices are so low, the worker and his family enjoy the innumerable benefits and delights of owning an automobile; the merchant and manufacturer extend their business into new and profitable fields by means of motor delivery; the farmer carries his fresh produce to the best markets with none of the old-time hardship and delay—and all for a very small initial investment.

Fifty out of every hundred cars and trucks in Canada are Fords—due to the public appreciation of Ford value.

Meetings Wards Venture Store and Beer Sales.

A number of questions were asked, and considerable discussion took place on the forthcoming figure bill, culminating in the following resolutions being passed unanimously:
"That this meeting be in record as favoring the establishment of a liquor vendors store in the Town of Strathmore, as soon as it can be reasonably shown that such can be established without loss to the public." This was moved by Walter Giffin, and seconded by Joe Gunn.

The second resolution, moved by H. B. Chamberlain and seconded by Joe Swanson, was as follows: "That there be sold by the place in regard that come up to the standard set by the government, that it contain to a standard of six per cent, alcohol, that it be sold for a glass."

There was considerable discussion as to size of glasses, etc., but the chairman pointed out that the motion was intended only as an expression of the desire of the meeting, and would be a guide to Mr. Buckley, though the price would have to be set according to the expense.

In answer to further questions on this matter Mr. Buckley said that in regard to hotel licenses he would be guided by the wishes of his constituents. He would not limit appointments to the Liquor Commission to men who voted Moderation at the polls, but arrangements would be made according to ability.

Influence of U.F.A. on the Govt. Allegations were made that the U.F.A. were exercising influence on the government and its members, which was taken exception to by several U.F.A. members present, and Mr. Buckley said that the U.F.A. were not interfering with the government. He was not legislating for the U.F.A., but for his constituents as a body.

The Census?

A vote of thanks was passed unanimously to Mr. Buckley, and some of the audience were not yet content to go home, though the hour was late and suggested a discussion on the census, which was largely sustained by the member and the chairman, each upholding his side of view with the aid of most good humor, but apparently neither convincing the other.

The proceedings were brought to a close about 11:30 with the singing of the National Anthem.

Mr. Buckley expressed himself as being very well pleased with the meeting, which had given him a fine opportunity to get acquainted with his constituents and their views, and he had enjoyed the heckling.

FOUR RATEPAYERS ATTEND ANNUAL MEETING

The attendance at the ratepayers meeting, which is to be held at 10 p.m. over the next four (four) present. The meeting was turned up, despite the absence of several, and the attendance was: Messrs. Springthorpe, Saunders, Garrett, and several, and the proposal was made that they be decorated with the order of the Golden Star, for their devotion to duty.

Several questions were asked regarding the financial statement, which was read by the secretary, and questions were also put regarding fire risks, insurance, etc.

Council Meeting

Following the ratepayers meeting, a meeting of the Council was held, all members being present.

Mr. W. Springthorpe was appointed as tax collector on a fifty-fifty basis, and from now on he will deposit the full tax of the one owner and does with having concern with the other owner pay the license or the due discharges.

The Council unanimously, on the motion of Councillor H.D., agreed to pay the fire insurance premium on the Memorial Hall to the extent of $200, which represents the premium on approximately about three-fifths of the total insurance, taking a note from the G.W.V.A. as security.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

What will probably be the last meeting of Strathmore School Board, previous to the election, was held in the Town Hall on Thursday evening last. Chairman Joe French presided, the other trustees present being Messrs. Quinn, Dunn, and Anders.

The first business, after the reading of the minutes, was the consideration of the inspector's report, which was not altogether favorable in all cases. The matter will be taken up with the teachers affected.

Trustee Dunn was appointed delegate to the Trustees Convention to be held on 5th, 6th and 7th February, at Edmonton.

The school audit, which will be presented at the ratepayers meeting next week, shows that the expenditures of the Board for 1923 were considerably below the estimate. The total amount spent being $9,345, while the estimate was $10,200. The school grant is not included in these figures.

FINAL REFERENDUM FIGURES

Official figures on the final count in the recent referendum on the liquor question have now been announced by J. D. Hunt, chief election officer. The result is given as follows:
Question A 4,749
Question B 2,329

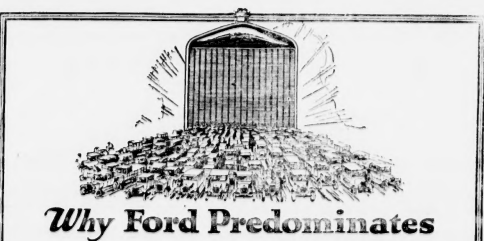

Question C 5,902

Question D 92,509

The majority of "D" over "A" is thus 22,210. The cost of holding the plebiscite was less than $120,000 whereas the Legislature had allowed an estimate of $250,000, basing this estimate on the cost of previous plebiscites.

District Deputy G. M. Brown, of Gibson, paid an official visit to Strathmore Lodge, 1433-7, last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Fred Schuman and daughter
left yesterday on a visit to Sunnyside, Montana.

We understand that the illness of Mr. Hinchin, who was struck down two weeks ago, has been diagnosed as sleeping sickness. Her condition shows considerable improvement.

Fort Hoffman expects to attend the annual rat-payee's meeting of M. C. how Valley on February 16, which should also have the following:

The union in Crowfoot and Rockford districts who know him will report on the death case results on January 26th of Mr. Clifford Clements.
He was accidentally killed while working at a lumber camp. The funeral will take place today (Wednesday) at Red Deer. Deceased worked with Mr. H. H. Schor for some time and also with Miller and Clements.

We are pleased to hear from Mr.
W. E. Brown, now in the wholesale business in Victoria, B. C.
He states that feeling at the coast is more optimistic than it has been for several years, and trade is improving.
Mrs. Brown and the family are in the best of health.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allan sailed yesterday for John, New Brunswick,
on January 21 on the S.S. "Minnesota."
Mr. Allan will be employed in connection with the C.P.R. exhibit at the Empire Exhibition in London, preparing exhibits, etc.

We received a last week's mail a copy of one of Nannak's old-timers,
but as it is not signed we cannot publish it.

In addition to hearing the reports of the delegates to the annual convention, Strathmore C.P.A., on Saturday discussed the system of taxing shipments employed under the auspices of the government prior to last Christmas. While there was no complaint as to the prices, which were truly as good as had been expected, dissatisfaction was expressed with the methods employed. The men who were with the car had not been credited,
and the receipts given were merely plain slips of paper. Also the opinion was that if the shipment had been adequately advertised they would have been taken advantage of more extensively. Many did not know anything about the shipment until the car had left Strathmore. It was decided to write the Government pointing out these facts.

Mrs. John Mackenzie and daughter, left Strathmore on Saturday on a visit to Mrs. Mackenzie's mother at Burn-island, Scotland. On Thursday she was the guest at a farewell tea given by Strathmore Ladies' Auxiliary, G.W.
V.A., at the home of Mrs. Douglas French. She sailed from St. John, New Brunswick, on February 1st.

Reports of Anglican church meeting held Sunday evening, Girls' Social Club
and Delta Yacht School received too late for insertion. Will be published in next issue.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

Nominations for Strathmore Town Council and School Board will take place on Monday. It is to be hoped there will be a contest, so that the ratepayers may express themselves.

The past year's Council has been an efficient one, the principal work carried out during the year being the improvement of Second Street. Improvement questions will face the new Council. A revision of the system of taxation seems necessary, and it is imperative that something be done regarding the provision of the town with modern conveniences, especially electric light. The town cannot go ahead unless we can hold out inducements to locate here in the shape of the conveniences that people even country homes, now enjoy.

The school board has functioned efficiently during the year. The only controversial question during the year was the provision of a house for the janitor, and for the present state of affairs the ratepayers, and not the board are responsible. The present quarters provided are a disgrace to the town.

MR. BUCKLEY'S VISIT

The visit of Mr. Buckley to Strathmore last Wednesday was eminently justified. Much interest was taken in the meeting, and our member got the point of view of a large number of his constituents, and at the same time was able to point out the difficulties connected with the administration of public affairs.

It would be of much advantage if each member made a visit to his constituents prior to the session, and talked over the forthcoming legislation with them. It is an unfortunate condition that people generally take more interest in a question like the sale or otherwise of alcoholic beverages than they do, say in education, or domestic and foreign policy, for barterages of any kind are luxuries, but even at that Alberta has reason to congratulate herself on the interest taken in politics, as compared with that in some provinces.

Road Improvements

Some very pertinent questions were asked at last Wednesday's meeting on the question of road improvements. The decision to take advantage of the Federal Government grant will necessitate the trunk roads being brought up to a higher standard. It may mean some increase in taxes, but the objection mainly to taxes is not that we have to pay them, but we get little or no results from the payment.

NIGHTINGALE NOTES

An interesting debate took place at last Friday's meeting on the Valley Gardens' community club on the topic "Resolved that honesty is a greater influence on character than environment." The affirmative was taken by Messrs. Gadden and Connor, and the negative by Messrs. Laycock and Mackenzie. The verdict was given for the negative.

Nightingale C.F.A.A. met at the home of Mrs. P. H. Harrison on Saturday last, most of the members being present. Reports of the convention were given by the delegates, Mrs. Benson and Mrs. Stinkler. Discussion took place about the forthcoming supper, and it was arranged that the C.F.A.A. set the date.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Thurston are re-appearing in Vancouver for a few weeks.

Progress is being made with the building of the annex to the hall under the able direction of Mr. Lemmberg, and it is expected that the building will be finished by the end of this week.

DALEMEAD NOTES

Mr. Smithson, from Miles is a visitor at the home of his children, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Paulson.

Mr. and Mrs. Nat Anderson entertained a number of their friends at a birthday party on Wednesday, January 23rd.

Mrs. Thomas, from Glendon, is visiting at the home of her daughter and son, Mr. and Mrs. N. Anderson.

The whist drive which was to be held on the 23rd inst. was postponed till next Wednesday.

Miss D. Pashak was a Calgary visitor on Wednesday.
Mr. Fred Hulton, Mr. Charles Colwell, and Mr. and Mrs. Van der Velde, and daughters, were amongst the Calgary visitors.

Delegates Impressions of the Annual U. F. A. Convention

In three days of a very interesting
this resolution carried.

Cooperative Pools

Cooperative pools and marketing were discussed from every angle and Mr. Bennett addressed a special meeting attended by your delegates in which he gave particulars of his investigations in the U.S. regarding the subject. This trip it must be remembered, was at the time allotted to as a "dry run" however, it appears that most useful information was secured which will be of considerable value to the committee appointed at the meeting to take steps to form associations and pools to handle various farm products.

Stratensue Geing

It should be mentioned here that the numerous sessions and special meetings, held from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m.
every day, was strenuous going; not quite as hard as the schedule mapped out in the Standard last week for a progressive farmer, but to say the least, very easy on tobacco.

U.F.A. Growing

The association is now showing wonderful cooperative power. The membership has passed the 11,000 mark, though it is thought to be numbered only 11,000. We have a long way to go to reach the high water mark of 1921, but are already near the corner and going strong.

Now and then one hears complaints of why certain things are done by the leaders of the U.F.A., or why other things are not done.

It should be remembered that no thing is present at meetings of the executive, we do not always get a full report of what took place. Much confidence should be placed in the decision of minorities, and of our leaders. This is not enough, knock from outside the association without cause.

It was not long ago that the action
of two directors on the Wheat Pool Board, two men who never should have been on it, almost caused a panic among the rank and file, and lost the pool a considerable number of supporters.
The very occupation of these men should have been sufficient in the face of their action, to discredit them from the farmers' viewpoint; yet many would have nothing to do with the wheat pool because these two men remained, even though they left the field clear for the working of a successful pool.

Mr. McManis described the U.F.A.
as the best organization on the top of the earth; men outside the U.F.A.
often wonder why some farmers stay outside, and others in the association frequently knock it.

What Good Has U.F.A. Done?

It is asked too, what good has the U.F.A. done? Anyone who is not blind to facts, know something of what has already been accomplished. The more important questions are: "What is the U.F.A. doing?" "What do they stand for?" and "What is it possible for them to accomplish?"

We are striving for nothing which is not ours by right—equitable laws, profitable markets, and better social conditions.

We are sufficiently intelligent and aware of our duties as citizens—not to wallow in the mud any longer, and wait, as has been suggested for "the inevitable swing back to better conditions." We do not believe in "political expedients, whatever they may mean, but we do believe that politics is our business, just as it is the business of every man in every community to subscribe of his best to the good government of his country
for his own and everyone's good.

We have already made some measure of progress in all these things, and the success which is possible, is only limited by our own efforts as in dividual units of the organization.

We must remember that the question of greater production, while to some extent already solved, is partly on our ability to finance side lines and crop rotations, also that the better social conditions will depend very largely on profitable markets; so we must lend every effort available to further the expansion of the U.F.A.
already formed and being formed by the U.F.A.

In conclusion let us remember that the annual convention of the U.F.A. is only a mirror which reflects the ideas
of the leaders and individual members, and though past records are full of accomplishments, the real success of the U.F.A., and the better things which are possible to us are in the hands of each individual member.

Here and There

Quebec City is again becoming the Mecca of winter-sports tourists. The arrangements for the forthcoming festival are being completed, and reports of all kinds, including tobogganing, and the total cost has been brought up to normal.

The mild weather prevailing in Quebec until recently greatly impeded lumbering operations in the province. This situation, according to Mr. Piche, Chief Forester, has been adjusted, however, by late falls of snow, and the total cut has been brought up to normal.

There are 300 ports and harbors on the coast of Canada. The majority are, of course, small affairs,
the big ports not exceeding six.
However, one of Canada's ports, Montreal, ranks sixth among the world's ports and third on the basis of export business done during the seven months in which it is open.

Newspaper production in Canada
for the eleven months of 1923 ending in November was 1,146,255 tons, as compared with 908,945 tons for the same period in 1922. This represents a saving of 17 per cent. The estimated production for 1924 is 1,270,000 tons, or 130,000 tons over that for 1923.
